Good points
- Runnable, complete program
- Class diagram
- Most of the requirements for grade 2 are satisfied

Points to improve
- We are not entirely sure if the hidden dependency between view and controller has been removed, since the input values that need to be checked are still hardcoded in the controller.

You have done almost everything perfectly, so apart from the bad dependency point we do not have anything else to add.

Do you think the design/implementation has passed the grade 2 criteria?
The design/implementation should pass the grade 2 criteria once the dependency between view and controller is fixed.
